

PARTICIPANT WORKSHEET

This final week gives you an opportunity to consider how God might be challenging your church as a whole, and you as individuals within it, in relation to the whole-life mission we are all called to. You'll think about a time in your life when you've felt most like you were living out your faith and we'll listen to others who have responded to God's calling. You'll finish by asking: 'What's the next step for me?'

- Discussion questions. What issues or problems in your local community (and further afield) do you think reflect the 'pattern of this world' which the church should be rebelling against?

- What part do you think this church has to play in God's mission?

- What small steps of faith do you think you could begin with?

'We cannot do everything. And there is a sense of liberation in realising that this enables us to do something, and to do it really well. It may be incomplete but it is a beginning, a step along the way, an opportunity for the Lord's grace to enter and do the rest. We may never see the end results, but that is the difference between the master builder and worker. We are workers, not master builders. We are ministers, not messiahs. We are prophets of a future not our own.' Oscar Romero
